

Lola Perrin

Lola Perrin has a broadcast-ready recorded catalogue of original music for solo piano and multiple pianos available.

Lola is a composer pianist living in London and working in a variety of collaborations with; writers (Hanif Kureishi, Mihir Bose, Sue Hubbard, Jonathan Bonnici), singers (Natacha Atlas, Y Yadavan), scientists (Dr Martin Coath, Dr Adam Maloof) and filmmakers (The Gray Circle, Eirik Evjen, Maxwell & Hashim plus more).

Lola has performed music for 2, 4 & 6 pianos at the prestigious Lang Lang Inspires at London's Southbank Centre. She has recently formed a partnership with premium hi-fi manufacturer Naim Audio. She is currently performing a 7 date concert series dedicated to her music in London. Lola is a columnist at International Piano magazine.

Lola's music has drawn many comparisons as reviewers seek to put their finger on her sound. Ravel, Debussy, Keith Jarrett, Michael Nyman, Philip Glass and Steve Reich are often mentioned in reference, but Lola prefers to keep it simple, calling it 'Rave Music for Butterflies'.

It's lyrical and pianistic.

CDs Fragile Light and By Peculiar Grace and other loves (2CD) are on general release.
