

TONY LAF BIOG

Described in the Daily Mail as 'a heart-tugging singer' and as having "a terrific voice" by Simon Cowell, Tony Laf is now setting his sights on UK chart success.

His soulful and mellow voice, heartfelt lyrics, guitar licks and tunes that you can't get out of your head make for a style that can't be defined as just contemporary R&B, but incorporates influences from jazz, country, blues and soul and has a distinctive African flavour.

Tony Laf was born in Angola, south-west Africa. In 2002 Tony Laf was one of a number of artists who were invited to sing on an album for peace and the song was played in Portuguese speaking countries around the world.

Tony Laf has had success in some major UK talent competitions including this year being watched by 12 million viewers on ITV in Simon Cowell's latest talent competition, "BRITAIN'S GOT TALENT". His track, "I'M GOOD", which won so many hearts at the "BRITAIN'S GOT TALENT" televised auditions, has had over half a million hits on YOUTUBE. Check Tony Laf's website for details.

Tony Laf's unpretentious attitude, style and good looks give him the ability to connect to his audience which he proved in his recent triumph supporting Jocelyn Brown at the JAZZ CAFÉ in London.

Tony is currently working with John Robinson and long time producer Ian Little (Roxy Music, Duran Duran etc.) on writing and developing a new and unique sound for his forthcoming album. A single of "I'm Good" which Tony performed on ITV's "Britain's Got Talent" is in the pipeline and should be released early next year!
